COUNTY BOARD VOTES $500 TO AID VETERANS

Supervisors Increase Fund After Appeal by Henry J. Pettigrew

CITES FEDERAL NEGLECT

Defeated Candidate for Chairman Makes Mack's Election Unanimous

Declaring that the county board of supervisors last November inadvertently failed to appropriate money for the indigent soldiers relief fund, H. J. Pettigrew, chairman of the county indigent soldiers relief commission, appeared before the board Wednesday to ask for an appropriation at this time.

An appropriation of $500 was voted by the supervisors without a debate, following a resolution drafted by the commission and introduced by Supervisor F. R. Appleton.

Conditions that would excite the deepest sympathy of every member of the board exist in a number of families deserving of county aid, Mr. Pettigrew told the board.

A world war veteran seriously wounded by being shot through the shoulders is entirely bed-ridden. For some unaccountable reason, he said, all the pension that the veteran's wife and children obtain from the federal government amounts to $7 a month. His is one of the cases demanding immediate attention.

NEED MORE MONEY

The $400 balance remaining in the fund at the beginning of the year will soon be depleted and considerably more money will be required forthwith, the board was told. The appointment of the commission, the method of administering the fund, etc., are prescribed by statutes, the commissioner pointed out, and he asked that the board do all in its power to live up to the law.

After a vote was taken on transferring $500 from the general fund to the indigent soldiers relief fund, William Beck, chairman of the finance committee, inquired if it were not the duty of the commission to file a report on its administration. He was informed that a report was filed last fall and that another would be filed at the coming November session of the board, in accordance with the statutes.

The law requires the county to provide certain amounts for the support of war veterans, their widows and orphans, who are without visible means of support. In case the deceased soldier leaves no widow or orphans, the same provisions apply to the veteran's father and mother if they are in need, it was explained.

CHANGE MINUTES

At the reading of the minutes of the Tuesday afternoon or initial session, Supervisor Anton Jansen, defeated candidate for chairman of the county board, claimed the prerogative of altering the minutes to make the vote for Mr. Mack unanimous. No objection was voiced.

C. J. Jackson, who succeeds George F. Fiedler, former chairman, on the board of supervisors, tendered his resignation as a trustee of Riverview sanatorium. The resignation was accepted, and it was decided to elect a successor Thursday morning.

The election of janitor of the courthouse and jail also will be taken up Thursday morning. The applicants are John Newland, incumbent, Robert W. Bunkert, M. J. Bielek, George Vogel, Anton Fischer, all of Appleton.

The board authorized the grounds and buildings committee to purchase a new burroughs adding machine for the county clerk's office if the committee considered the present one beyond repair.

WAUPACA-CO WARS ON LIQUOR SALES

Dawes May Impress Public But He Won't Move Senate To Alter Rules, Is Claim

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by the Post Pub. Co.

New York.—Vice President Charles G. Dawes, played the role of substitute for President Coolidge Tuesday making the annual address to the Associated Press members which the chief executive is usually invited to deliver.

Mr. Coolidge couldn't come but Vice President Dawes was glad of the opportunity to tell the assembled editors in detail his reasons for urging a modification in the rules of the United States senate.

Also while it may be indelicate even to suggest that the presidential campaign for 1928 has been begun, nevertheless a number of editors have always looked upon Mr. Dawes as presidential timber, either for 1928 or a subsequent term.

Mr. Dawes' whole idea is that one man shall not be able to conduct a filibuster which shall prevent a majority from taking a vote when they are ready for it. Although Mr. Dawes does not say so, what he really is attempting to do is to change the present arrangement whereby two-thirds of the senate can adopt a closure rule shutting off debate and make it possible for the same to be accomplished by a majority.

Although congress is not in session, Mr. Dawes feels that public opinion should be crystallized in order that members of the senate will feel compelled to change existing rules. His appeal to the country is without precedent, as was his direct recommendation to the senate in his inaugural speech.

But Charles G. Dawes has always been ready to discard precedent for what he conceives to be his duty, and while senators were at first disposed to ridicule Mr. Dawes and characterize his action as without tact they now realize that he has a powerful weapon at his disposal—the ability to rouse public opinion.

Respected because of the part he played in the so-called Dawes-Young reparations plan on which Europe today is operating, and admired by business men for his assaults on excesses in the policies of various labor unions, Mr. Dawes has an unusual strength and the senate is not likely to allow the vice president to conduct the fight undisturbed.

The answer to Mr. Dawes is likely to be made not by Republicans—though many of them disagree with him—but by Democratic senators. The minority is always interested in the protection of its rights.

Some changes in the existing rules undoubtedly will be made by the senate itself as the result of the Dawes campaign, but it is not considered probable that a majority rule will ever be adopted permitting closure.

Many senators realized that the senate is not a popular institution now, and they think that on a complicated question such as is involved in changing the rules no great popular expression of opinion is likely to be manifested and that while Mr. Dawes may find it a good subject for speeches which will earn him attention and publicity, during the interim that congress is not in session, the problem will be lost in the shuffle when the senate meets again.

London Sees Hand Of Reds In Bulgaria

By Associated Press
London.—Information reaching London regarding the troubles in Bulgaria is of such a character as to preclude a satisfactory estimate of the situation.

The censorship established under the state of martial law apparently is preventing observers there from recording developments and there are no means of checking up on the rumors emanating from such doubtful centers as Vienna and Belgrade, which are sending out reports of massacres, wholesale executions and fighting with enormous numbers of casualties. These stories are denied by the Bulgarian government and the situation so far as news here goes is one of repeated assertions and contradictions. The London newspapers mostly accept the view that the Bulgarian government is engaged in quelling a desperate Communist rebellion, initiated and fostered from Moscow.

STORM CLOUDS THROW MILWAUKEE IN DARK

By Associated Press
Milwaukee.—Heavy banks of clouds, from which a drenching rain, accompanied by hail, threw Milwaukee and vicinity into almost total darkness shortly before 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. The clouds worked in from the west, and passed over Lake Michigan, accompanied by but a light wind.

The darkness caused considerable traffic confusion until the street lights throughout the city were thrown on.

In explaining the cause of the darkness the weather bureau said a heavy smoke bank had formed over the city early in the day and had been carried to the west by an east wind. When the rainstorm formed the wind shifted to the west, and the smoke bank, accompanied by a heavy thunderhead combined to cause almost total darkness.

Showers and squalls were predicted for Wednesday and Wednesday night.

ELECT BAYFIELD MAN CHIPPEWA MODERATOR

By Associated Press
Superior.—The Rev. C. F. Bruhn, Bayfield, was elected moderator of the Chippewa presbytery which closed its session here Wednesday shortly after noon. He succeeds the Rev. L. A. Bechtel, Superior. The Rev. S. E. Palmer, Superior, was elected stated clerk of the presbytery and the Rev. C. H. Henderson, Phillips, temporary clerk.

The Rev. A. W. Wolfe, Oaxaco, Mexico, moderator of the general synod of Mexico in a speech Tuesday night stated "there are three million boys and girls in Mexico today without schools and without teachers. Americans talk of the constitution as the keystone to the arch of civilization. The real keystone to the arch of civilization is the little red school house."

CHARGE GIRL ATTACKED AT 'RUM' PARTY

District Attorney Olen Orders Arrest of Two Symco Saloonkeepers

Alleged drinking parties in Waupaca-co are attacked in a "cleanup" which has been begun by Otto L. Olen of Clintonville, district attorney of Waupaca-co. Warrants were prepared in his office Wednesday morning and it was expected that several arrests would be made before the day was over.

Mr. Olen's action followed complaint by the parents of a Bear Creek young woman who was understood to have been away from home for two days as the result of intoxication while attending a dance she was in the company of Richard Schmal and Jerry Egan of Lebanon, in whose automobile she went to the dance. Egan was placed under arrest by authorities of Bear Creek village and was held in jail there for 24 hours.

PRISONER RELEASED

A difference of opinion as to whether he should be arraigned in Outagamie or Waupaca counties caused so much delay in handling his case that Egan was released by the village marshal. The official did so because he declared that a man cannot be held in jail for more than 24 hours without charges being preferred against him. It was understood at first that he was to be accused of kidnapping, as the girl was said to be under 18 years of age.

Egan was brought to Appleton on instructions of John A. Lonsford, district attorney, after he received a telephone call that the man had been arrested. Mr. Lonsford found, after questioning Egan and the village officials, that the case belonged to Waupaca-co. He took Egan before Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court, however, to make sure he was right in his assumption. The judge also ordered that the prisoner be taken to Waupaca-co.

Egan then was taken to Clintonville and the case held before Mr. Olen who was of the opinion that a charge of kidnapping should be preferred as occurring in Outagamie-co, because the girl was taken in an automobile from there.

TAX EXEMPTION BILLS Tabled By Assembly

By Associated Press
Madison.—Two tax exemption proposals were filed in the assembly Tuesday night. The Nelson bill proposing an exemption on mortgaged homestead improvements of upward to $2,500 was indefinitely postponed, 58 to 17, and the Titus bill to exempt farm horses from taxation was refused concurrence, 51 to 11.

Several other measures were killed, including a bill to permit standardization of milk for the manufacture of Swiss cheese, and the Swanson bill to give county jail prisoners work on public highways.

The assembly adopted a resolution proposing to continue the committee on pollution of the Mississippi river by Minnesota cities as an interim body, to report to the next legislature.

NEW SUES FORD PAPER IN $1,000 LIBEL CASE

Detroit, Mich.—Henry Ford and the Dearborn Publishing company, of which he is owner, were named defendants in a $1,000 libel suit filed today in United States District court by Aaron Sapro, originator of a plan of cooperative marketing for farmers.

In the declaration filed through William O. Gallagher, attorney, Sapro alleges that articles defamatory to his character have appeared in the Dearborn Independent. The articles, the declaration alleges, charge Sapro with being one of "a conspiracy of Jewish bankers who seek to control the food markets of the world."

Dodge Heiress Will Talk To Presbyters

From Mountain, Mich.—Mrs. John F. Dodge, Detroit, who recently figured in the news with the sale of the Dodge Brothers Motor Car Co. and the announcement of her engagement to Alfred G. Wilson, former Rhineland man, will be one of the principal speakers at the forty-third annual meeting of the Presbyterian society of the upper peninsula to be held here on April 23, 24 and 25.

Several other speakers of national prominence are also scheduled to address the session.

Cellar Arsenal Of Arms, Dynamite, Gas And Bombs Discloses Robbery Plot

By Associated Press
Chicago.—Seizure of a small arsenal of weapons, dynamite, ammonia gas and smoke bombs in the cellar of a roominghouse occupied by Henry J. Fernekes, alleged robber arrested Saturday, has revealed an extensive plan for a bold daylight holdup of one of Chicago's largest downtown banks, according to William Shoemaker, detective chief.

Information obtained from telephone conversations to which detectives listened led to the arrest of Fernekes in a downtown library where he was consulting books on the manufacture of bombs. Details of the alleged robbery plans were summarized by Captain Shoemaker.

Ten men, he said, were included in the plot and had been drilled in their parts by Fernekes who is under indictment for two killings in a Rockland-co, N. Y. bank robbery.

The men were to drive to the bank in two automobiles loaded with guns, ammonia, gas tanks, smoke bombs and gas masks.

"They planned to enter the bank and close all the doors," said Shoemaker. "The men carrying the ammonia tanks were to unloose the caps and set the poison fumes into the air. Customers, clerks and officials would drop instantly, possibly die, if they did not get help soon enough.

"The bandits, safe behind their gas masks, would then loot cages and vaults comparatively at their leisure."

The smoke bombs, he said, were to be used to prevent police pursuit.

Herriot Elected Head Of Chamber

By Associated Press
Paris.—Former Premier Edouard Herriot was elected president of the chamber of deputies Wednesday evening. He received 270 votes, with a single vote against him, the opposition abstaining from voting.

The members of the cartel or group supporting the government, arose and cheered when the result was announced. The new president of the lower house bowed his thanks in return and the chamber adjourned. He will preside over the session Thursday.

Fist fights occurred on the president's rostrum of the chamber Wednesday afternoon during the second balloting for the presidency of the body.

Nine hours of debate, featured by bitter personal attacks on Joseph Caillaux lately returned from exile and how minister of finance, preceded the vote in the chamber of deputies Tuesday night on the declaration of policy of the new cabinet.

At the conclusion of verbal fire works, Premier Painleve and his colleagues were voted the confidence of the chamber 303 to 215. The tactics of the opposition in attacking the inclusion of Caillaux in the ministry are believed to have assured the victory of the government, as both are radicals and Socialists were dissatisfied with Painleve's announced determination of retaining the French embassy at the Vatican.

Communists, In Jail, Go On Hunger Strike

By Associated Press
Berlin.—Fifty communists, held in the city jail on charges of political offenses have begun a hunger strike in protest against what they allege is the intentional delay by the authorities in bringing them to trial.

Appleton People Not Yet Awake To Appeal Of G.A.R.

Gifts arriving Tuesday swelled the fund to $435 for the monument which will be unveiled Memorial day at the burial plot of George D. Eggleston post of the Grand Army of the Republic at Riverside cemetery. The response was below the expectations of Oney Johnston post of the American legion, which is sponsoring a campaign to obtain $2,000, but the veterans have confidence that Appleton will more than gratify the wish of the soldiers of the Civil war.

It is expected that large numbers of individuals will be among the givers toward the monument, but various civic and fraternal organizations are asked by Charles A. Green, chairman of the campaign, to do likewise. It will be a source of satisfaction, he says, if a throng of thousands can gather around the shaft at its dedication on May 30 and say, "I helped erect that everlasting monument to the patriotism of the brave boys of '61."

Every cent that is given toward the monument fund will be donated because that person feels in his heart that he wants to give. There will be no solicitor calling upon you; no friend selecting your name because he knows you won't turn him down, giving will be entirely voluntary.

Don't wait until the campaign is nearing its end. Cheer the aged veterans by letting them see the total climb swiftly. All money is to be brought or mailed to the Post-Crescent office with checks made payable to "G. A. R. Monument Fund." The

WOMAN'S TORSO FOUND JAMMED IN CATCH BASIN

Chicago.—A small boy hunting for golf balls, on an outlying links Tuesday found the body of a woman—legs, arms and head missing—cramped into a catch basin on the edge of the course. It had been in the water for nearly a year, the police said.

Strips of leather, a piece of cloth with buttons attached, and a silk stocking were found in the basin. From them the police hoped to learn the identity of the body.

Theories that it might be a kidnaper's victim were among those considered by the police. They asked assistance from the family of 15-year-old Anna Chanales who disappeared last June and never was seen since.

The scene is an out of the way section where several holdups and attacks have occurred.

Waves Balk Rescue Of Jap Seamen

By Associated Press
New York.—The White Star liner Homeric was steaming toward New York Wednesday with details of the death of 38 Japanese seamen lost when the freighter Raifuku Maru foundered in huge seas 160 miles southeast of Halifax as seven ships raced to the rescue.

The Homeric, answering radio messages of the Japanese vessel early Tuesday, altered her course and was close to the vessel as she capsized and sank.

The heavy seas, however, made it impossible for the liner to launch her lifeboats, and those of the freighter had been smashed by the waves. Officers and passengers were forced to look helplessly as the Atlantic engulfed the freighter's crew.

The Raifuku Maru, owned by the Kobe shipping firm and commanded by Captain H. Izeki, left Boston on April 18 for Hamburg with a cargo of wheat. Monday a storm arose and her cargo shifted, causing a bad list. She began to leak Tuesday morning and the first SOS was sent out.

As the Homeric came within sight of the sinking ship the Japanese climbed over the rail as she listed far over. Then she sank leaving no trace of life on the water. The Homeric turned toward this port sending a brief message that it had been impossible to effect a rescue.

RAPS CHURCHES FOR OPPOSING DEFENSE

By Associated Press
Washington.—Warnings against "certain religious bodies" which have condemned national defense plans were sounded here Wednesday by Acting Secretary Davis of the war department in addressing a luncheon of the council of chaplains, who were here to study the department's plans for religious instructions in the army.

"In a sense it may be a natural reaction to harrowing experiences of the World war," Mr. Davis said, "but like every reaction it is likely to go to extremes."

"I am heartily in sympathy with constructive effort that is intended to do away with the tragedy of war. The church would be untrue to one of its greatest tenets if it did not do its utmost to bring about 'peace on earth' but it will do more by promoting 'good will among men' and by creating a sentiment which shall make it possible for a man to serve his country in the army without feeling that by so doing he is acting disloyally towards the master."

Engine Crew Dies In Burnt Bridge Crash

Miles City, Mont.—Running at high speed, the Columbian, one of the crack Chicago-Milwaukee and St. Paul passenger trains, ran into a burned out bridge near Incomar Wednesday morning.

The engine turned over and killed Alvin Bugby, engineer, and Hans Sture, fireman, both of Miles City, according to word received at the railroad's offices here. It also is reported that a number of passengers were injured.

The train is one of the transcontinental fliers, traveling between Seattle and Chicago. It was due to arrive in Miles City shortly after noon Wednesday. It is about 50 miles west of here.

Publishers Gather In Annual Conclave

The annual election of officers and directors will be Thursday.

BULLETIN
By Associated Press
Great Falls, Mont.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler took the stand in his own defense Wednesday at his trial here on charges of illegally appearing before the department of the interior for Gordon Campbell, Montana oil operator.

"I never met George P. Hayes in the Waldorf Astoria hotel in New York," he said in a postscript. "I never heard of him until he appeared before the Daugherty investigating committee. He was attorney for a bootlegger by name of Corbin." His statement was interrupted by an objection by the government which was sustained.

Would Eliminate Immigrant Isle

Davis Would Have American Consulates in Foreign Lands Examine Emigrants

Washington, D. C.—Labor department plans for examining prospective immigrants abroad which immigration officials hope will eventually eliminate the need for an immigration station at Ellis Island and other ports were up for consideration at an inter-departmental conference called here Wednesday at the instance of Secretary Davis.

The plans, which labor department officials may soon be put into effect, contemplate more complete examination of intending immigrants, both medical and otherwise, at American consulates abroad, and possibly at ports of embarkation.

The Ellis Island station, which has become the "white elephant" of the labor department and where conditions were bitterly assailed a year ago in the British parliament, would be eliminated under the eventual operation of the new plan as an immigration station and used only as a concentration point for aliens held for deportation.

Secretary Davis at that time personally conducted the British ambassador on an inspection tour through the island.

2,000 HOMELESS AS MEXICAN TOWN BURNS

Douglas, Ariz.—Relief for more than 2,000 persons made homeless and destitute by the fire which Tuesday wiped out a large portion of the mining town of Cananea, 50 miles south of the Mexican boundary, was under way Wednesday under direction of the Red Cross.

More than 200 homes were wiped out by flames which broke out in the town Tuesday night. A Chinese merchant was known to have lost his life and officials were trying to confirm reports that a Mexican family of three also had perished. The property loss is estimated at $200,000.

Los Angeles, Airship, Moors In Island Port

Washington, D. C.—The airship Los Angeles moored to the tender Patoka in the harbor at Hamilton, Bermuda, at 7:15 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The airship which left Lakehurst at 2:35 p. m. Tuesday, arrived over Bermuda at 2:10. Awaiting daylight, the big craft cruised about over the island before attempting to moor.

Successful mooring of the ship was received with enthusiasm in navy aeronautical circles here, a former trial at Bermuda having been frustrated by unfavorable weather.

Peace Is Here To Stay, Says New Herrin Mayor

Herrin, Ill.—"The peace has come to stay in Herrin," storm center of Williamson county's factional disturbances, was the opinion expressed Wednesday by Marshall D. McCormack, chosen mayor Tuesday in the hottest city election in years. Running on the Citizens ticket, McCormack defeated Thomas Welty, Ku Klux Klan candidate on the conservative ticket by a majority of 157.

Despite the intense interest in the election the voting passed off quietly. Street gatherings were dispersed Tuesday night and no concentrated demonstrations were permitted.

MIKE MACK ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF COUNTY BOARD

SHIOCTON MAN ELECTED OVER 'CASEY' JANSEN

P. H. Ryan, Appleton Elected Vice Chairman by County Supervisors

Michael Mack of Shiocton was elected chairman of the county board of supervisors Tuesday at the initial meeting of the spring session. He defeated Anton Jansen of Little Chute, the only other candidate for the office, by a vote of 32 to 9.

Other than undertaking the organization of the new county board, the supervisors transacted very little business. Meetings will be held every morning of this week. A complete list of new standing committees will be announced by Chairman Mack shortly.

P. H. Ryan, supervisor from the Second ward was re-elected vice chairman of the board. He also served as temporary chairman after John F. Hantschel, county clerk, had called the meeting to order and presided while the vote for permanent chairman was being taken.

Mr. Ryan, with his characteristic irony declared he did not object to being chairman as long as the job was only temporary, and added that during the time he served as acting chairman since the resignation of George F. Fiedler in February he had made enough money to buy himself the new suit of clothes he was wearing.

TWO NOMINATED

The name of Mr. Mack was placed in nomination by Mr. Ryan himself. After Mr. Jansen, president of Little Chute, also was nominated. Supervisor Joseph Bayer of the Third ward moved to have the nomination closed. An informal ballot was first asked for, but Supervisor John Tracy, Fourth ward, objected on the ground that rules did not permit it.

Mr. Tracy suggested that, if an informal ballot were insisted upon, the board go into executive session. The rules, he said, do not mention what, ever of an informal ballot in open session. The proposal was then dropped.

Distribution of prepared ballots by friends of Mr. Mack indirectly brought a remonstrance from Mr. Jansen when he thought the collection of ballots was proceeding too hastily.

"Just a minute," he said. "I've been nominated for this office and want to see fair play. Ballots distributed around here bear the name of Mack. I want to see that everybody gets a chance to vote for whom he pleases."

ASSURED 'FAIR PLAY'

"There will be fair play while I am in the chair," replied Mr. Ryan, and a pause was ordered to make certain that everybody had voted according to his choice.

After the election, Mr. Mack in taking the chair made a short speech in which he thanked the members for their support and pledged the board and administration "without prejudice or partiality to anybody."

"You know," he added, "that I'm no orator."

A. M. McClone, Deer Creek, moved the election of Mr. Ryan as vice chairman, and the latter was accorded the office by acclamation.

"All right," smiled Mr. Ryan, "with Pat and Mike as chairman and vice chairman, I can assure the members a square deal."

Mr. Mack is one of the oldest members, in point of service, on the board. He was first chosen county supervisor by the village of Shiocton about 13 years ago and has given interrupted service.

For two years he was a member of the county-state road and bridge committee, and for the last four years he has been chairman of the public grounds and building committee, besides serving on a number of other committees.

LIVES ON FARM

The new county chairman is a farmer by occupation. He has been a resident of Shiocton for 25 years, having moved to that community from Trempealeau co. He has never sought political office outside of county supervisor. He was supported by a number of supervisors for county chairman two years ago at the time the office became vacant through the death of D. J. Ryan whose seat on the board is now occupied by his brother Malachi Ryan of Combined Locks. Mr. Mack succeeds George F. Fiedler who resigned to become postmaster of Seymour.

Six new supervisors took seats on the county board Tuesday. They are: John Grafmeier in place of William Rohan, Buchanan; F. G. Emmons, in place of Milford Estrell, Dale; Bert McCann in place of John McKnight, Freedom; Fred Blohm in place of Charles Stewart, Osborn; John H. Niesen in place of Charles J. Faust, First ward, Kaukauna; C. J. Jacobson in place of G. F. Fiedler, Seymour.

After organizing Tuesday afternoon the board upon motion of Supervisor Tracy adopted the rules of order of the last board as its own.

The only other business transacted Tuesday was to permit the county chairman to attend the midyear meeting of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association at Sturgeon May 6. County sanatoria will occupy a prominent place on the program, it was announced, and legislation increasing the per capita amount of state aid for county sanatorium inmates will be asked for.

Fire recently destroyed part of the Lounain University chemical laboratory. The university was wrecked by the Germans during the war.

RETIRING MEMBERS TAKE NEW ALDERMEN TO COUNCIL CHAIRS

Simple ceremonies marked the induction of three new aldermen to the city council Tuesday night, after the old council adjourned since die at 7:33. After the adjournment the council remained in recess ten minutes, during which the mayor and members remaining shook the hand of the three departing aldermen, L. O. Hansen, William Eggert and H. R. Beske in farewell, and welcomed the new men, Mark Catlin, Charles Fiedler and Pliny Earl.

After this ceremony had concluded the aldermen resumed their seats in the council room, the retiring members conducting their successors to their places and the new council resumed business where the old had left off.

Marston Is New Head Of Legion Post

Joseph Marston was chosen to fill the unexpired term of commander of the Oney Johnston post of the American legion at a meeting of the executive committee Tuesday night in Conway hotel, following the committee's acceptance of the resignation of Thomas H. Morrissey, former commander. Mr. Morrissey has accepted a position in Green Bay.

The committee also was given the resignation of H. J. Pettigrew, chairman of the executive committee. Mr. Pettigrew will remain on the committee, however.

Mr. Marston, the new commander, has been active in legion work and served as chairman of the executive committee in 1923 and 1924. He will serve as commander until the annual election in the fall.

Well Trained Lawrence Club Sings Fine Program

Singing before a fair sized but appreciative audience, the Lawrence Men's Glee club under the direction of Carl J. Waterman presented their home program for the 1925 season in Memorial Chapel Tuesday night. The varied program held the interest of the listeners every minute, and the solo numbers being especially well received.

Although it may hardly be said that this year's club surpassed the club of 1924, the blend of the various parts into the central harmony could not possibly be bettered. This was especially noticeable in "Goin' Home." "In individual response and the blending of the four parts into one ensemble, this year's club may be said to surpass any former Lawrence glee club," Conductor Waterman declared.

VARIED PROGRAM

The power of the program was in its varied offerings. The spirited "Song of Prince Rupert's Men" was followed by the quiet melody of "Goin' Home," the soft movement of "Morning" from the Peer Gynt Suite by Grieg was succeeded by the marching tread of "The Watch is Passing," then on to the climax of "The Sea," in which the tranquility, the power of triumph, the enchantment of the sea rolled into one vast melody.

"The Sea," as arranged by Bornsheim in musical setting may justly be termed the most difficult, but the best rendered number on the program of difficult numbers. It gripped the audience as it gripped the singers, and only the humor of "Old King Cole" which was rendered as an encore, could alleviate the tense emotional feeling caused by the song.

The renditions of the soloists were artistically and expressively presented. Willard Meyer, baritone, and Wendel Albrecht, violinist, being encored several times. The incidental solos of Hulbert and Archie disclosed the wealth of material in the club. This is Meyer's and Archie's first year in school, and they will probably have three more years with the organization. LaVahn Maesch's work as accompanist cannot be too highly praised. His work at the piano "went over big," his own variations of "Cop-hagen," and "Hard-hearted Hannah" causing the crowd to go wild.

LIGHTING EFFECTS

The lighting effects during the "Songs in the Twilight" were beautiful, and added visionary pleasure to the songsters' changes of the program, and to the college chants and melodies of the alma mater. "Hail to our Alma Mater" fittingly closed the program, although more would have been given received by the listeners.

Dean Waterman's conducting, the result of fifteen years of directing Lawrence clubs, rounded out the general well-trained and organized appearance of the club. He had the forty-singers in control every second, and the rhythm and time were carefully and precisely controlled. General opinion places the group and its conductor into the class of professional male chorus organizations.

Goodland Lays Out Year's Work For New Council

Mayor Points Out Economies and Urges Action on Important Projects

Addressing the newly organized city council Tuesday evening, Mayor John Goodland, Jr., summed up some of the measures he had unsuccessfully tried to put through under the regime of the old council and recommended that the new organization take action on them as soon as possible. "Perhaps we didn't accomplish as much as we had hoped for during the last year," the mayor said, "because we inherited several difficult tasks from our predecessors, such as the Lawe and Cherry-st bridges and the two junior high schools, which kept us short of funds."

One of the big problems before the new council, Mr. Goodland said, is that of sewerage. He said sewers have been installed in haphazard fashion with little regard to the future. "The statutes of Wisconsin," he said, "provide that sewage must be treated before it is flushed from the sewers into the rivers. Sooner or later this will have to be done, and the sooner we do it the less will be the expense." He urged the installation of a trunk sewer to the north end of the city, saying that that quarter was retarded in its growth by the lack of sewers. He blamed the lack of funds in the city treasury for the fact that this matter was not acted on last year.

He brought up the construction of a sidewalk on the south side of the John-st bridge, saying it was a miracle that no one had been killed in the traffic there. Water bubblers in the business district also are necessary and were urged by him last year. This project failed because of lack of funds, he said.

The adoption of the union schools system here would mean reduction of at least $25,000 a year in the school taxes, the Mayor said.

The new street sweeper had met with some unfavorable comment. Mr. Goodland stated. This he attributed to the inexperience of the street department employees, saying that the sweeper had met with some unfavorable comment. Mr. Goodland stated. more than $500 a month, and next year we ought to save about $8,000 thereby."

Mayor Goodland also advocated the appointment of a street commissioner to relieve the city engineer of some of the many duties now loaded on him.

"During the past year," he continued, "I was forced to criticize some of the actions of city officials, and was 'called down' for daring to do such a thing. If the occasion ever arises again, however, I will criticize whatever it is needed, and I want the officials to understand this. "If the newspaper would give both sides of all questions in reporting on city government affairs, work on the council would be much pleasanter."

Mr. Goodland went on. "In some cases the Post-Crescent has been absolutely untruthful in its criticisms of the mayor and council. If both sides were published and the citizens allowed to judge for themselves, we should get on much better all around. I am sorry this council room is not full of citizens so that all might hear, but I hope all my remarks will be published, and then let the people judge," he said in closing.

COUNCIL MAKES ONE CHANGE IN CITY EMPLOYES

Robideau Elected Weighmaster—Connolly and Williams Reelected

Alex Robideau was elected city weighmaster to replace Joseph Meyer at the first session of the reorganized city council Tuesday night. This was the only change made in the appointive offices or the coming year, but competition was keen and close for some of the other posts. The closest contest was in the election of the city engineer, R. M. Connolly, incumbent, and L. M. Schindler being tied at six votes each, on the first informal ballot. On the first formal ballot, however, two of Schindler's backers swung over to Connolly and gave him the majority, 8 to 4. Nine ballots were taken before Robideau was elected. The first one resulted five votes for Joseph Meyer, four for Robideau and three for Pingle. On the first formal ballot two of Pingle's votes went to Robideau, and from then to the ninth the votes stood five for Meyer, six for Robideau and one for Pingle.

Charles Fose, alderman from the Third ward, was elected president of the council to succeed H. R. Beske of the Sixth ward. The informal ballot being eight for Fose to four scattered. Charles Thompson received one vote on the first formal ballot while Fose was given the other eleven and was elected.

E. L. Williams was elected city clerk for his twenty third consecutive term, over Herman Kamps, his sole opponent. Williams was elected, 11 to 1, on the first formal ballot. Kamps receiving two votes in the informal ballot. J. G. Pfeil was unanimously reelected poor commissioner over Peters. After Peters received one vote in the informal ballot, Henry Frank retained his position as city janitor without opposition. Miss Florence Whipple was reelected city nurse, also without opposition, and John Bauer was retained as city plumbing inspector, 8 to 4. Goshlin got three votes in the informal ballot and Elmer O'Keefe one. W. C. Felton was reelected city physician by bare majority when F. P. Dy hearty, who had received three votes in the informal ballot was given two more in the first formal ballot.

Competition for poorfarm keeper and matron was very close and went to the seventh ballot before M. Peters was finally reelected over Mrs. Verstezen. J. D. Breitrich and Joseph Shasky, incumbent, Breitrich had five votes on the final ballot to seven for Peters. George Peotter was seven votes to five for Elmer O'Keefe on both the informal and formal ballot, and was reelected building inspector.

Alderman C. D. Thompson and R. F. McGillan were reappointed as members of the board of health, each being supported by unanimous vote of the council. O. P. Fairfield whose three year term on the planning commission was to terminate on May 1, was reappointed for another term by the mayor, and Joseph A. Hodgins was named sealer of weights and measures to succeed himself for another year.

THOUGHT HE NEEDED HOSPITAL TREATMENT

Laboring under a belief that he needed treatment, Walter Sacks, 45, living on a farm about eight miles from Chilton, wandered into St. Elizabeth hospital Tuesday evening and refused to leave. The police department took charge of the man and communicated with relatives, who came here immediately and took him back home. Sacks said he had visited doctors at Fond du Lac who said he needed no treatment and he then came here.

Council Adopts 18-Foot Radii As City's Standard

Make Exception for Highway Intersections Where Radii Will Be 25 Feet

Radii at all street intersections to be paved under the 1925 paving program will be 18 feet, with the exception at intersections of state highways when the radii is to be 20 feet, according to a resolution adopted by the new city council Tuesday evening. This plan was adopted on recommendation of the board of public works, after the council had considered it in the committee of the whole and finally settled a question which caused hot controversy during the past two months in the old council. Curbs at intersections shall be continuous, the council decided, also on recommendation of the board of public works.

The request of employees of the street department for Saturday afternoon off with full pay during the summer months was denied for the third time by the council.

Seven bids on a light truck for the street department were opened. Two of them which had not complied with the specifications were thrown out. The rest ranged from $798.75, made by August Brand for a Ford truck, to $2,426 for a General Motors truck offered in a bid by the J. T. McCann Co. The bids were referred to the street committee for tabulation.

R. J. Wilson was awarded the contract for the installation of sewers on Winnebago, Douglas and Lennox sts. The application of Chris Frank for a sewer digger's license was granted, as was also the application of Hopfensperger brothers to make excavations beneath the alley at the rear of their meat market on West College ave. Payment of bills amounting to $534.50 was authorized on recommendation of the finance committee.

Bills for the costs in condemnation proceedings against property needed for the extension of Union-st and the widening of Randall-st were ordered paid, and on motion of Alderman Charles Thompson all unfinished committee business was referred to like committees in the new council.

On the completion of business it was voted to adjourn until 8 o'clock on the evening of Wednesday, April 29, when the council will meet for its annual supper in the vocational school.

Stribley Home In Florida One Of Prettiest In City

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stribley of Kaukauna, have just completed one of the most beautiful homes in Fort Myers, Fla., famed all over the south for its magnificent residences, according to a letter received here from J. A. Hawes, former mayor, who is spending several weeks in the south with John L. Hettlinger. Mr. Hawes describes the delightful trip from St. Petersburg to Fort Myers where he was the guest of the Stribleys.

His letter: "One of the pleasantest trips we have taken in Florida is a boat trip to Fort Myers on board of the 'Royal Palm' leaving St. Petersburg at 7 p. m. crossing Tampa Bay and entering the Gulf of Mexico and afterward sailing up the beautiful Caloosahatchee river, a distance of 15 miles to Fort Myers, called the Gate City of the Tropics, the county seat of Lee-co.

This city is 180 miles south of St. Petersburg and is 400 miles further south than San Diego, Calif. The trip was made by moonlight and we sat out on deck until a late hour enjoying the balmy breezes of this wonderful climate and the silvery waves of the gulf.

Rising early as we entered the Caloosahatchee river we were greeted by a golden sunrise, it has the distinction of being the most beautiful river in Florida having its headwaters in the everglades section of Lake Okeechobee and is the only outlet of this immense body of water to the Gulf of Mexico.

"We sailed 15 miles up the river between many beautiful islands, covered with tropical verdure and a dense growth of small timber.

"As we are now below the frost line, the stranger finds himself within the real tropics of Florida where all manner of flowering plants and shrubs abound, also more than 54 varieties of palms, one of which, the royal palm, lines many of the avenues growing to a great height and contrasting beautifully with the lower growing varieties in the yards containing the beautiful homes of Fort Myers.

"There is a great profusion of the red and purple bougainvillea, the golden Allamanda, Royal Poinciana, red and pink Hibiscus and a great variety of tropical flowers, blossoming throughout the year.

"We enjoyed meeting our former townspeople Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stribley, who have just finished one of the most beautiful homes in the city, we were invited to luncheon, which was afterward dispensed with the charming hospitality so familiar to their many friends in Wisconsin. Their new home is of Mission and Spanish architecture, finished in white stucco and red tile roof, and surrounded by about five acres of beautiful orange and grape fruit Mangoe and Avocado trees. The river front is being ornamented with tropical shrubs and flowers and one corner of the grounds contains a yacht basin and swimming pool supplied with fresh water from a large flowing well.

"The city of Fort Myers is one of the important commercial cities of Florida, being the shipping point for vast quantities of early citrus fruits, peppers, egg plants, tomatoes and other vegetables and many berries, and has large packing houses for the shipment of a large amount of citrus fruits raised in this territory. There are several large hotels for the accommodation of many winter visitors and the commercial district has many fine business blocks. Like other cities in Florida, Ft. Myers is paving miles of streets and extending its public utilities to meet the expansion in real estate development and its growing population.

85,000 Immigrants In Brazil In Year 1924

Thompson Again Picked To Head Finance Board

Fose Succeeds Hanson as Chairman of Council Street and Bridge Committee

Alderman C. D. Thompson, Second ward, was reappointed chairman of the finance committee of the city council Tuesday night by Mayor John Goodland. Mark Catlin, Charles Fose, C. F. Smith, R. F. McGillan and Robert C. Zilske, were appointed as members of the committee. Charles Fose succeeds L. O. Hanson as chairman of the street and bridge committee. Other members on this committee are Mike Steinhauer, Pliney Earll, C. F. Smith, Jerry Callahan and Robert C. Zilske.

In place of Jerry Callahan, C. F. Smith was made chairman of the fire and water commission. Catlin, Earll and Fiedler, the three new aldermen were named on this committee in addition to Callahan and Hassman. The street lighting committee was composed as follows: Zilske, chairman, to succeed Wenzel Hassman, Mike Steinhauer, C. D. Thompson, George T. Richard, Jerry Callahan and Wenzel Hassman.

Robert F. McGillan succeeded himself as chairman of the poor committee. Catlin, Earll, Richard, Hassman and Fiedler are members of the committee. Callahan, Catlin and Thompson succeeded Fose, Hansen and Zilske on the public grounds and building committee, Callahan being the new chairman.

George T. Richard was appointed chairman of the ordinance committee, with Fiedler and McGillan as co-members. The mayor appointed Wenzel Hassman chairman of the police and license committee, and Richard and Fiedler were named as the other two members. Mike Steinhauer will take the chair in the judiciary committee, in place of H. R. Beske, with Earll and Fose completing the committee.

Cougars Harmless Till They're Old

By Associated Press
Seattle.—Cougars of the mountains of western America, like tigers of the jungles of India, don't kill human beings until too old to obtain food otherwise, according to pioneers in the Cascade and Olympic mountains. The view of these oldtimers were given in a symposium gathered by a Seattle newspaper after a cougar killed a small boy near Wenatchee, on the eastern side of the Cascade Mountains in Washington.

James Oberg related that 35 years ago a cougar followed him to his father's door. The elder Oberg killed the animal, which proved to be female. Another cougar that 32 years ago fell upon a child lagging behind his parents on a trail had dull teeth and claws worn to the fur.

SEEING MEXICO

An American company, it is announced, will build a chain of hotels in Mexico. The purpose of course will be American tourists. Our people like to go into strange countries. Therefore,
to attract them, those countries make themselves less strange.

An American tourist is supposed to go away from home for the purpose of having
just what he already had better at home.
So he must have American food and service, American ways of getting around and American jazz with his meals. At least, so the caterers to our tourist trade assume.

However, if these comfortable absurdities
will attract tourists to Mexico, they will find other things to make it worth while, too. We go across the Atlantic to see a Europe less picturesque, and across the continent and the Pacific to see an orient only a little more so, while
at our doors is one of the most interesting
exotic countries in the world.

Climatically, Central Mexico ranks
with the tourist resorts of the world.
Scenically there is no more attractive land. And humanly here is a combination of cultures, the oldest and finest of Europe and the most strangely picturesque
of primitive Indian America.

Altogether it is a good thing if our wandering imaginations turn sometimes
southward instead of always east or west.

FOUND—THE MIND

Up until about the year 1920 people
thought they had minds to think with.
Beginning that date, or thereabouts, a host of authors began to tell them that minds were not merely to think with, but to think "freely" with. The distinction is of course excellent, but it has been overdone.

We are practically asked to believe that the power to think independently and courageously was something invented,
like the radio or the electric light, just
a few years back.

And what sins are committed in the name of the brand new "free mind?"

Taking advantage of the exceedingly vague public notion that it is all about,
a variety of "emancipation" magazines
have been conveying, either subtly or very broadly, the hint that the freedom of the mind is a freedom from convention, an invitation to a gay bohemianism that is
"real life," while all else is just vegetation. The connection between some modern drama and the notions of intellectual
"liberty" which are raised to excuse it is so thin that it could appeal only to mor-
ros. Intellectual freedom is hitched up to sex freedom at every opportunity.

Independent and original thinkers,
many centuries ago, discarded most of the
theories advanced, under this guise as fatal to the happiness of human society. The discovery of intelligence in these times of science—a process, incidentally, which has taken five hundred years or so—is not
the discovery that men should discard
experience but that they should use it,
building upon it instead of tearing down,
learning to discriminate and not abandoning discrimination.

The mind is really a pretty old proposition. Men using it "freely," in the sense conveyed by the new exploiters of "emancipation," have lived by the thousands through all the centuries—and
most of the time, to everybody's relief,
in jail.

ARE THE LEGISLATURES OBSOLETE?

A California newspaper proposes abolishing the legislature and letting desired
new laws simply be submitted to the governor by those interested. "That's what happens in the end, anyway."

Of course. In most states in the Union
the governor is the government. For at least the whole of this century the president has been the national government.
Whenever he did not the national government. Whenever he did not succeed in governing we were not governed. The increasing complexity of life made efficiency so much more important than anything else that we tacitly turned the whole government over to its only efficient branch.

Legislatures and congress, our own direct representatives, the safeguards of our freedom, fell into contempt, for the one unpardonable sin of inefficiency.

The right remedy would have been to make them efficient. But it was easier to take the department that was already fairly efficient and make it the legislative as well as the executive branch. It works,
on the whole, surprisingly well. But free government needs other things as well as efficiency.

Italy and Spain, under dictatorship,
are exemplifying that in its extremist form. America can best escape the risk of their fate by setting resolutely at the task of securing representative freedom
and responsibility without sacrificing efficiency.

SPAIN, BLUNDERER

Alfonso XIII, king of Spain, sent a wreath to be placed on the Havana memorial to the men who died in the sinking of the battleship Maine. It is the act of a disinterested, sympathetic and admiring bystander, but this bystander happens to be technically the leader of the nation
which for a quarter of a century has been accused by a large section of Americans
for the taking of those very lives.

Historians appear to agree that intervening time has not fixed the responsibility for the Maine's sinking. The explosion seems to have been external; but
whether it followed orders from Spain,
plotting of insubordinate Spanish officers
or a conspiracy of Cuban insurgents, no one knows. Alfonso's wreath seems to say: "Our war was, all a mistake. We had nothing to do with this terrible act.
We are as sorry as yourselves."

But frankness would compel Americans, even admitting the flimsy leap of prejudiced imagination which condemned
Spain for the Maine disaster without evidence, to remark that the war would have come anyway. Spanish blunders—"Butcher" Weyer and his pest camps, DeLoe
and his foolish letter, the long years of suppression in Cuba under Spanish rule
—had rendered the situation intolerable.

We are glad Alfonso is eager to cement
returning friendship. He and his nation need it quite as thoroughly today as they did in 1898, for once more they have entered upon a period of blunders, of despotic suppression, of military error which seems to show that time can teach the Spanish fighting and governing classes
little.

A great English newspaper recently remarked that it knew not cared little about what Vincente Blasco Ibanez, the irascible author, was saying from the safe refuge of his French villa; but that "it is certain that the war in Morocco drags
endlessly on, and that Spain bleeds to death in this futile campaign, that her
public life has gone rotten, that her army
is in decay, that she has 60,000 fewer schools than any other European state of her population, that her richest province
is trying to secede, and that her new form of arbitrary government makes no
more attempt than any other to deal with her real problems."

To be brave but decadent, to blunder
and die gloriously but futilely, seems to be Spanish destiny—a destiny something like that of the wretched but indomitable
bull in the Spaniard's own arena.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in

BALOGNY BY PROFESSOR WILLIAMS

Jessie Feiring Williams, A. B., M. D., professor of physical education, Teachers' college, Columbia university, has written some of the best text books
published, and his latest text book, "Personal Hygiene Applied" (W. B. Saunders Co.), the second edition of which has just appeared, is intended for
"courses in high schools, colleges and schools of nursing." I fear it will not attain instant popularity with such schools, for Dr. Williams has a shocking habit of calling some of the most popular
health teachings absurd, and worse still, he names
names. Dr. Williams should read Ben Franklin's list of virtues, particularly the rule to forbear all direct contradiction. Franklin denied the absurdity of showing immediately any absurdity in the other's proposition. Dr. Williams quotes the teaching of one C. S. Hall about the alleged value of "deep breathing" exercises, and calls it absurd. Of course it is absurd, but as Franklin advised, one should use a thousand words to say so instead of just
one. Aside from this tactless habit of calling absurd notions absurd, Dr. Williams has another habit which I fear is fatal to the popularity of his book with the teachers of hygiene. He has the meanest way of pointing out the unscientific ground
on which such absurdities as deep breathing exercises and the rather large number of teachers of hygiene and physical educators about the country who still advocate deep
breathing exercises, being a little shy in physiology,
but well versed in the fishology of the mail order
school of practice.

Professor Williams, by and large, is doing as well as could be expected in his text book writing. Of course one does not expect the ideal to be attained
in a text book dealing with hygiene; the publishers
have a good deal to say about what shall go into a text book and what shall be left out, and the publishers have one good ear to the ground always.
But I am naturally delighted to point out the flaws
which mark an otherwise admirable text book, and naturally I find that Dr. Williams teaches about the "colds." What Dr. Williams calls "colds" is absurd,
as I believe Ben Franklin himself would admit. Dr.
Williams begins very well indeed by asserting that "colds are caused by bacteria, which at times attack the body in great force and cause marked
disturbance, with temperature, loss of appetite,"
etc. (temperature being the professor's idiom for fever), and a page farther along he plunges into
the "home treatment of a cold," suggesting among other things, a "hot foot bath" and then tipping
the apple cart by adding "but the danger of catching cold after emerging from the bath is so great," etc. Absurd, I call it, to teach that a disease is caught by bacteria and then assume that it is something else again.

Dr. Williams also falls into the same old absurdity which nearly all authors commit when dealing with the cry. He first refers to certain unidentified experiments on rabbits as having warranted
some credence in the assumption that exposure to cold and wet "lowers resistance," and then boldly
asserts that "the old belief that drafts cause colds
is justified in this sense that they will congest the mucous membranes and render the individual more susceptible." This is certainly an absurd deduction. How does Dr. Williams produce the bal-ogny?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Why Not Chew Meat.

Why do you believe it unnecessary to chew
meats? (Mrs. S. J.)
Answer.—I don't believe that, although there are a lot of people who never chew meat at all on Friday. What I said was that it is less essential to masticate meat thoroughly than it is to masticate
vegetables, cereals or fruit, because the human stomach is well equipped to digest meat in fairly large pieces but the action of saliva upon the starches and sugars is a relatively important part of the digestion of vegetables, cereals and fruits.

WAUPACA MAN'S LOST ARM MEANS SHIFT IN GUARDS

Promotions Will Be Recommended to Replace Lieut.
Wilson in Howitzer Unit

Waupaca—Lieut. Col. Edward Calvert of Appleton inspected the local howitzer company of the national guard at the regular drill Monday night at the armory. It was stated
the local unit is doing satisfactory
work along the line laid down at the last inspection period.

A change in the rank of the officers of the company is to be recommended by the inspection officer as a result of incapacity of First Lieut.
Berney Wilson, who lost his left arm
as a result of an auto accident. Lieut.
Wilson was also a lieutenant in the officers reserve corps. The recommendations to be made in line of promotion are the raising of Second Lieut. Dayton Baldwin to first lieutenant, raising Harvey Peterson from top sergeant to second lieutenant
and the appointment of Howard Radley to top sergeant.

Boy scout troop No. 1 expects to change scoutmasters at its next regular meeting. Prof. Watson, present scoutmaster and one of the leaders in the present scout movement,
finds the duties of his office as city
superintendent of schools will not permit enough spare time to devote to the ever growing scout work. Mr.
Watson has the troop well organized
and his successor will find conditions
in a state in which the work can be carried along with out any interruption. The boys will probably be led by Elmer Kurkowski, who had experience in scout work at Marshfield
before coming to Waupaca.

Scout troop No. 2 voted enough
members Monday night to bring its membership up to 31. These boys have also received their charter and are now purchasing uniforms.

The proposed Waupaca-co Baseball
league representative held meeting at Manawa on Monday night to perfect
plans for the organization. No representative of Waupaca city was present and it is still doubtful if this place will be in the circuit. A score-ing of ball players prevails in this vicinity and the no-salary clause
would limit the number of good men
to be obtained here. Fans are divided in opinion as to the success of the team playing in the city under those circumstances. There are a few backers of the movement and these men may bring out Waupaca organization to represent the city in the circuit.

Complete results of the district commercial contest at Wisconsin Rapids
on Saturday have not yet reached the local high school. It has been stated, however, that a representative of the local high won fourth place in the typing contest.

THE GREAT GOD COINCIDENCE

In the matter of plot building ancient fiction writers had a tremendous advantage over those of the present day. When the hero got into a tight place and was about to have his head hacked off in a battle, the particular goddess who had been assigned by Zeus or the council of the gods of Olympus to protect him would slide down on a sunbeam and wrap
a cloud around him, making him invisible. And the enemy would be left futilely hacking the air, flailing his arms in the empty air like a chicken
with its head chopped off.

Given that handy device and its
corollary, faith of the readers or listeners in its authenticity, a writer
could take almost any liberty he wanted, knowing that there was literally no situation out of which he could not make a goddess extricate
him. Plot building under those circumstances became relatively easy.

But long after that device had of necessity been abandoned because
people had ceased to take it seriously, another device just about as handy
and in reality less honest than having a goddess skate down on a sunbeam was worked to the limit by the plot builders. It is hardworked
today in intellectually cheap magazines, in novels of the third or fourth
class, in melodrama and dishonest
serious drama, and judging from its use the movies would have to go out of business if a law were passed prohibiting its employment.

This is the great god coincidence.
The girl happens to be walking in the woods and witnesses the murder
of which her lover is afterwards accused. She has never in all her life walked in the woods before but the writer needs a witness who at the dramatic moment will clear his hero
and so he makes the girl go walking there at that precise moment and
that precise place out of all the millions.

lions of moments and places she
might have chosen for her walk.

Or a faithless wife visits her lover's rooms. The husband has never dreamed of suspecting her. His bags never in his whole life been in that part of town before and he will never have occasion to go there again. But at this particular moment on this particular day his employer sends
him to deliver the rent from this particular lover of his faithless wife and
in addition to the rent he collects
evidence for a divorce.

Obviously by the use of that device
anything is possible—it is almost more handy than the trick of the goddesses, although of course the ancient used coincidence in addition to the goddess stunt. Those old timers stopped at nothing. Given a plentiful supply of coincidences guaranteed
not to run dry, a writer's plot-building possibilities are unlimited. And as long as millions of readers are insensitive to the use of coincidence
the story teller's task is comparatively easy. He can literally get out of any difficulty that the mind of man can invent. He need never get
"stuck" in any plot whatsoever.

And a very large proportion of the readers of novels and short stories
and of those who patronize the theatres and movie houses are insensitive
to this device. They buy by the carload the books that work coincidence
to death and they applaud loudly
the movie that is "nothing else but."

But there is another class of reader
and theatergoer that feels the cold
chills racing down its backbone when a writer uses coincidence. That kind of reader has a sense of cause and effect, or probabilities and he knows that in real life he would get left if he depended on coincidence. He requires of his authors that they shall give him a recognizable sense of real life and that coincidence spoils the illusion and destroys the pleasure.

And that in the face of the fact that there are coincidences in real life as everybody knows. But nine times out of ten they are trivial,
meaningless in real life; they are not
staged to provide a smashing, dramatic scene. When used in fiction
they are invariably false, a trick to which the honest writer will not stoop.

Club Hears How Nation Got Phones

Telephone history from the day of the first exchange of voices over wires until today when photographs may be transmitted was related by F. N. Belanger, district traffic supervisor of Wisconsin Telephone company, in his address before Appleton Business and Professional Women's club at the monthly supper at Appleton Women's club Tuesday evening.

Mr. Belanger's subject was the History and Development of the Telephone. About 50 members of the club were present at the supper. Plans were made for the state convention in Madison and for the May meeting.

HAD EARLY STRUGGLES

Early day attempts to make the telephone idea practical were described by the speaker. He told of the difficulties encountered by Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, in interesting anybody in his accomplishment. The public regarded his invention as a mere toy and it was not until a South American mailer gave him help that the public began to use the telephone.

These meager attempts are quite a contrast, he said, to the present day when the Appleton exchange alone handles 40,000 calls a day. It is possible to talk across the waters and pictures now may be transmitted accurately by telephone. Mr. Belanger told how a picture of Dorothy Ellington on trial in San Francisco was transmitted to New York and was in newspapers there within seven minutes. Recording discs at each end of the line which produces lights and shades made this possible.

ASKS FOR COURTESY

An appeal was made by the speaker for consideration by those who use the telephone. The directory should be referred to more often, he said, so as to help avoid the errors that are bound to creep in. The operators are trying to serve a huge clientele promptly, he said, and courtesy on the part of the subscriber is a help.

Inquiry among members of the club indicate that six or eight will attend the convention in Madison in May of the Wisconsin Business and Professional Women's association. Miss Mabel Sibley, president of the club, explained the program and arrangements for entertaining delegates at Madison and urged that a large number attend.

The May meeting program was placed in charge of a committee consisting of Miss Laura Miller, Miss Evangeline Wirick and Miss Elsie Mau.

SCHOOLS ENTER
SPELLING MEETKaukauna Knights of Columbus Offer Cup to Winner of Thursday Contest

Kaukauna—Nine parochial schools of this vicinity have entered in the spelling contest to be conducted Thursday evening in the high school auditorium under the auspices of the local council, Knights of Columbus. The program will begin at 8 o'clock and will be free to the public. The event is the first attempted by the Knights of Columbus but it will be held annually if interest is sufficient. The schools competing are Kimberly, Little Chute, Freedom, Wrightstown, Darboy, Sherwood, Hollandtown, St. Mary and Holy Cross schools of this city. Five of the best spellers from the seventh and eighth grades from each school will take part. A list of 500 words has been submitted to the contestants for preliminary study. The contest will continue until all but one of the students has been eliminated.

The school winning the contest will be awarded a silver loving cup mounted on a mahogany base. The cup will be engraved. It is at present on display in the window of Lank's jewelry store on Wisconsin-ave. The cup will remain in the possession of the winning school one year and if the contest is held another year the cup will go to the next victor; the school winning the trophy three years in succession will retain permanent possession of it.

The contest will be conducted by the Rev. Victor DeCene, professor at St. Norbert college, DePere.

Postal Employees
Study Mail Rates

Kaukauna—The monthly meeting of the Kaukauna Postoffice Welfare association was held Monday evening in the postoffice. Discussions relative to efficiency in service were held. One of the chief items of business was a study of the new postal rates which went into effect recently.

It was stated that considerable confusion has resulted since the change was made. Many people believe a 3-cent stamp is necessary on first class mail. It was pointed out at the meeting that letters still go for 4-cents although postcards and private mailing cards also require 2 cents postage.

The new rate for newspapers also is misunderstood. It was stated. Most confusion comes when newspapers are remailed by individuals to their friends. The rate now is 2 cents for every two ounces or fraction. Since most papers weigh more than 2 ounces, 4 cents postage is necessary.

Knights of Columbus ladies will give their annual dancing party Friday evening in Eagle hall. Music will be furnished by the Electric City orchestra of six pieces. Entrance to the hall will be through the K. C. rooms. The ladies have spent two weeks in decorating the room.

A surprise party was held Sunday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Guilfoyle at their home, 504 Wisconsin-ave on their thirty-second wedding anniversary. Guests were the 12 children of the couple. A 5 o'clock dinner was served. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Emma Cox and daughter Madeline, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guilfoyle and children, Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. Urban Remmel, Wrightstown.

Elect Knapstein
As President Of Common CouncilCity Fathers Hold First Meeting, Choose Nesbitt for Fire Department Driver

New London—The first meeting of the "new" city council was held in the city hall Tuesday evening. Although there are no new members in the group, the formality of a welcome by the mayor, the acceptance of Roberts' rules of order as the standard, and other small items were taken up.

H. T. Knapstein was elected president of the council, and Albert Gesseler as street commissioner. The first item of business was the election by the council of a new driver for the fire department, which office also includes that of being janitor in the city hall, and also gives free house-rent to the man holding the position.

Three men made application for the position. Wm. C. Behnke, Matthew Nesbitt, and John Riebee, the latter having substituted lately for fire chief Tiebell. Mr. Riebee's application also contained a petition from the members of the fire department, requesting that his appointment as driver be made. Matthew Nesbitt, however, was given the position by a vote of 4 to 1. Mr. Nesbitt will begin his duties on May 1.

Wm. Bennett was reappointed as ward commissioner. Alderman Schmalleberg, Knapstein, and Thomas were again appointed on the Board of public works, while alderman Melnhart and Clark were reappointed on the finance committee, pauper committee, and board of health.

City Clerk, C. J. Thompson, was instructed to advertise for bids on all city printing, the bids to be received not later than 8 o'clock on the evening of Tuesday, May 5.

A petition was received from Wm. Anson, East Spring-st, for a sidewalk to be laid between South Pearl-st and Lawrence-st. The two other property owners in the block filed a protest against it, and the petition was referred to the board of public works, which promptly turned the proposition down.

A petition signed by two property owners, was made for a sidewalk on East Hancock-st. It was a petition for a street light at the corner of Main and Wallace-st.

A dispute arose over a permit granted to Wayne Benedict, by the board of public works, to construct a grease rack or drain pit for automobiles, in the rear of his shop on South Pearl-st. Although he contemplates building it on his own property, it is objected to by property owners, chiefly the Hatten Lumber Co., as a fire hazard. The matter was turned over to Fire Chief L. A. Ziebell. The members of the council want to secure an unbiased opinion, or opinions, preferably from some experienced engineer, as to how to proceed with the local engineer problem, and also what to do concerning the famous Oshkosh-st sewer project. After much discussion, it was suggested that engineer George Randall, of Oshkosh, be consulted. A special meeting will be held to discuss the engineer proposition, at 7:30 next Monday evening.

FACE BRICK gives you a beautiful home — a choice of an almost infinite variety of color effects. It gives you a fire-safe house that will last for generations—a house that can readily be sold or rented.

A Face Brick house costs a little more than houses of less beautiful and less durable materials, but its savings in repairs, painting, insurance rates, fuel costs and depreciation make it, in a few years, the most economical house you can build.

Can you afford not to build with Face Brick?

SPRING GRID WORKOUT

New London—About 40 boys turned out for the first installment of New London high school's spring football practice on Tuesday. The boys, many of whom are veterans of many "battles," were put through a stiff workout for the first day's program, and all will be in good shape by the time school opens in the fall, to begin the season's games.

Several improvements have been made recently by the Eastern Star lodge at the Masonic temple and others are being contemplated. New cupboards have been installed in the kitchen, dishes and kitchen ware have been replenished by showers and new linoleum will probably be laid in the dining room soon. ## Advancing the Torch Light of Service

"Too many of us," says Floyd W. Parsons, "are like the lightning bug, that has a torch on the rear end. He can see where he has been, but not where he is going."

A brilliant torch is the ideal of service, held in front of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) continually lighting it to fresh paths of progress, illuminating the way to unexpected discoveries and scientific advances.

Progress in the oil industry within the last few years has been phenomenal. Conservation has acquired a positive and constructive aspect. Thrift rules. Mechanical inventions have cut the cost of refining. Obstacles to widespread distribution of oil products have been eliminated. The entire tendency is in the direction of more and more gasoline derived from a given quantity of crude oil.

These valuable contributions have been largely pioneered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) which now, as always, is inspired to leadership by the will to serve society. Each contribution has played a part in holding down the price of gasoline and in making gasoline available to everyone, everywhere. This has meant a definite stimulus to the higher living standards of our day. It has made the automobile possible to employees as well as to employers; to poor as well as rich; to suburbanites as well as urbanites.

It is in this direction that true democracy lies, and it is in this direction that the torch-light of service guides.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is looking ahead, building for the future, as well as serving the needs of the present.

This Company has saved, through improved equipment and processes, hundreds of thousands of barrels of petroleum, with consequent holding down of the price of gasoline, through increasing the supply available to meet the demand.

This Company recognizes its moral responsibility to provide the large amount of gasoline demanded by the 30 million people of the Middle West, to make this available at rush seasons and in all places frequented by automobile tourists. This recognition of responsibility and the determination to serve the motoring public to the fullest extent possible, are the torches which illuminate the onward march of the activities of this organization.

The cast of "The Beloved Brute," which will be the attraction at the New Bijou theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday includes such favorites of the screen as Marguerite de la Motte, Victor McLaglen, William Russell, Mary Alden and Stuart Holmes. The action is laid for the most part in the once popular dance halls of the West and in the open country through which a travelling circus or wagon show passed. There is plenty of action in the production, including a thrilling rescue of the heroine from a wildcat, a cleaning out of a dance hall by the hero with his bare fists, fighting against a score of rough thugs employed by the keeper of the place. Then there are the antics of the trained bear, the performance of the dancing girl, a wrestling match which is the genuine article, between Victor McLaglen and William Russell. Both of these players are wrestlers of repute, and for the production they staged a real match which has been declared to be the best ever produced for screen purposes. # Echoes Of Simon Criminal trial Heard In Court Defense in Lembke's Suit Against Bank Show Rail- road Commission Was Mislead

All records pertaining to the prosecution of Nick Simon, "the millionaire kid," former head of the now defunct N. Simon Cheese company, were brought here from superior court at Madison to be used in the suit of William Lembke vs. the First National bank of Appleton, R. S. Powell, J. H. Kerr and J. P. Hovorka, which is in progress before Judge Edgar V. Werner and a jury in circuit court here.

Although counsel for the plaintiff had not yet completed introduction of all its testimony, V. I. Minahan, counsel for the bank, asked permission to put E. J. Walden, clerk of superior court, Dane co., on the stand as business witness.

The history of the case brought against Nick Simon by the state was reviewed by the witness. He told of the first complaint charging Simon with being a false statement regarding the financial standing of his company at the time he petitioned the railroad commission for a permit to issue more capital stock. He testified of the dismissal of this complaint and the issuance of another warrant for Simon's arrest on the basis of another complaint similar to the first but differing in the date on which Simon is alleged to have filed the false statement.

Although Simon had a preliminary hearing in court and was bound over for trial, his case actually never came to trial, the clerk of court testified. Simon is now serving sentence in a penitentiary following prosecution by the federal government. The foregoing testimony was introduced at it is believed, to show that Simon succeeded in deceiving the railroad commission by deceiving the defendant in the present case.

William Lembke and his son, William Lembke, Jr., testified of dealings they had with First National bank officials regarding the Simon Cheese company stock in which the former had invested to the extent of $24,500.

The younger Lembke, who said he was a bookkeeper for the International Wire Works, Menasha, declared on the stand that when he had been appointed by Simon for assistant, he was referred by him to the First National bank.

Consulting Louis Wissmann, cashier of the bank, young Lembke was told that the cheese company was in good financial condition, he testified. When he asked Mr. Wissmann why Simon was issuing more stock at this time he learned that the capacity was too small and that provision had to be made for the ever increasing business. He said he asked the cashier if the company could pay quick dividends and received the reply, "I don't see any reason why not." In cross-examination he admitted that he did not tell Mr. Wissmann that he was making inquiries for his father.

Water Meeting Report Sent To Washington

Alan H. Tripp, president of the Association for Relief of High Water, has sent on to Washington a complete stenographic report of the recent meeting of riparians at New London. At that meeting representatives were made up to the need of a survey of the proposed cutoff from Shickton to Duck Creek.

Such a survey was embodied in the agreement between the riparians and the water power users, which agreement has been officially recognized and followed in other particulars by the United States government. The report mailed by Mr. Tripp was to the federal board of engineers, before which it may become necessary for representatives of the local riparians to appear in person to urge the survey.

SERGEANT BOSSES COPS WHEN CHIEFS GO AWAY

A resolution to put the senior sergeant of the police force in charge during the absence of the chief and captain was considered by the police and fire commission at its adjourned meeting in the city hall. The measure will be acted on at the next regular meeting of the commission when a sergeant to succeed Joseph Schmiedler also will be appointed.

If the Holmman resolution is adopted, Sergeant Earl Vandekogart will be in command of the police force in the absence of Chief George T. Prim and Captain P. J. Vaughn.

SCOTT SUTTON STILL MISSING FROM HOME

Scott Sutton, Appleton youth who disappeared from home several weeks ago, still is missing, according to a statement of Chief George T. Prim of the police department. All efforts to trace the boy have failed. It is the opinion of the chief, however, that Sutton journeyed to some other locality an unemployed work on a farm, as he seemed to like that occupation.

HIGHER FREIGHT RATES IN EFFECT IN VALLEY MAY 5

New Schedules Show Increases in Most of Goods Shipped from This Section

Appleton and other points in the Fox river valley will be subject to new freight rates on May 5, most of them increases, according to new tariff schedules received by R. G. Wort, traffic adviser. The rates are a compromise growing out of the controversy between the shippers and the railroads and are considerably below the charges at first demanded by the carriers.

Rates on all the principal classes of freight carried between Appleton and St. Paul and Minneapolis, will be increased. The new tariffs are from four to eight cents a hundred pounds higher, depending on the kind of commodity shipped. Reductions apply, however, on two classes of freight from this city to Missouri river points. Merchandise in the first and second classes goes one and a half cents a hundred pounds lower. That of the third and fourth classes is 8 and 9 cents higher, respectively, and that of fifth class one-half cent higher.

While transportation costs will mount into larger figures because of these changes, merchants and manufacturers are saved thousands of dollars by reason of the freight put up by the chamber of commerce through Mr. Wort and in cooperation with other shippers for suspension of the earlier proposals.

MAY 1 IS FINAL DATE FOR CONTEST REPORTS

May 1 is the last date on which reports will be received from committees making surveys for the better cities contest, according to a decision of Mayor John Goodland, Jr., chairman. This step is necessary so the editorial committee will have a month in which to prepare the final report. The contest ends June 1.

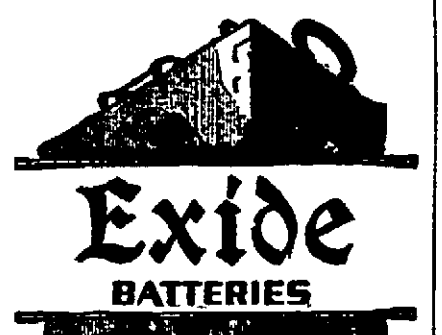

Public administration is the first subject which the final report will embody and this committee has been asked to finish its work first. The order in which the others will be received is: Industry, health, social welfare, recreation, city planning, town and rural relations, religion, education and library.

REMMEL POINTS OUT MUNICIPAL WORK LAST YEAR

Mayor Discusses Improvements and Tells Why Taxes Are Slightly Higher

Menasha—Upon calling the old council to order Tuesday evening, Mayor N. G. Remmel said before it adjourned for the first time in the history of Menasha a finance report showing how every dollar of the previous year came in and how every dollar went out up to 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, April 21, 1925.

City Clerk John F. DeCaro then read a detailed report showing the receipts, disbursements and balances of each fund, the total balance of which was $223,044.81. The balances of the more important funds on April 21 were: General fund $9,023.43, water and light $13,250.60, fund of education $7,680.25, library $34,190.11, finance pension fund $4,836.27, recreational $3,494.60.

Mayor Remmel gave a talk on the improvements made during the year and explained why taxes were somewhat higher than they had been in previous years. He said they were paid cheerfully however, and that the unpaid taxes were less than previous years. He called attention to the money expended for pavements and sewers, to the payment of $32,000 worth of waterworks bonds that became due, to the improvements made to the city hall building, to the purchase of the new fire apparatus and to the expenditure of more than $100,000 on the municipal water and electric light plants which was paid for out of the earnings of those plants, not a cent of it coming directly from the taxpayers.

NEW LAWNBRIDGE
The mayor reviewed some of the improvements planned for the coming year which included a new drawbridge on Tayco-st to cost more than $100,000, preliminary work upon which has already been commenced, new police station, additional sewers and watermains and the paving of Tayco and Elm-st. Provision made in the annual budget for practically all of this work. In discussing the municipal plants the mayor said the people of Menasha were paying less for electricity and water than those of neighboring cities and that the plants are being operated at a profit. The mayor divulged a secret to the crowd that filled the council room to the effect the $72,000 raised for the expenses of the board of education included $10,000 for a school site. By purchasing additional fire apparatus and by extending the water mains and putting in additional hydrants the mayor said he expected the city would be able to secure a reduction in the rate of insurance.

About the only business disposed of by the old council was the allowing of accounts for labor. The first order of business of the new council was the administration of the oath to new aldermen, J. A. Baldwin and P. Michalkiewicz and to those who succeeded themselves, F. O. Heckrodt, Anton Brezinski and John Remmel. After a brief talk by the mayor the appointive offices were filled. Owing to a misunderstanding in some quarters Mayor Remmel read a letter showing that the insurance company had made a settlement with Joseph Martell, former motorcycle officer who was injured a year ago while on duty.

Bids for paving Tayco and Elm-sts were opened and referred to the committee of the whole for its recommendation. Three bids were submitted, Joseph Schneider Construction Company, Cox Construction company and Chris Johnson, but only the first two were considered. This was due to the fact that Mr. Johnson's bid was not accompanied by a certified check. The council adjourned until Thursday evening.

PROPERTY MUST BE ASSESSED AT ITS SALE VALUE

State Orders Basis of Price
According to Repeated
Mandates of Courts

Real estate assessments must be based on the price which the property will bring at a private sale, the Wisconsin tax commission has ruled and orders to that effect have been sent to all assessors in Wisconsin.

At this session of the legislature a resolution has been passed showing that in some communities property is overassessed. The legislative declaration points out that farm values were inflated during the year 1915 to 1920 and that although the value of farm property has depreciated there has been no corresponding decrease in the assessment. Because of the legislative complaint the tax commission has sent a copy of this resolution to every local assessor together with other information as to methods which should be followed in fixing the assessment of property for taxation.

"Property must be assessed at what it would sell for at private sale and that this is a statutory rule which has been in force for many years, upheld and proved by an unbroken line of decisions of the supreme court down to the present time," declared Mr. Myrland, secretary of the Wisconsin tax commission. "The tax commission has not only in its instructions never varied this rule but has unanimously advised assessors times without number that it was the fundamental and governing rule to be followed in making assessments of real estate."

"In complying with the resolution of the legislature we are simply reiterating what we have continuously advised was the law and that any departure from it was an infraction thereof which subjected the assessing officers to severe penalties. In advising you to comply with the rule for the assessment of real estate stated in the resolution we are simply advising you to obey the law as it has always been interpreted by the tax commission and by the courts, and that neither the decision referred to in the resolution nor the resolution itself adds to nor takes away anything from the plain statutory rule which provides for the assessment of real property."

"MOON" MAKERS CAREFUL NOT TO CLOG SEWERS

Unlike several cities in the state whose sewers have been clogged with mash dumped by unwarly makers of the illicit so-called beverage known as "moon", "white mule" or "squirrel whiskey", the Appleton engineering department has not been bothered that way, according to R. M. Connelly, city engineer. On several occasions when repairs were made on sewers, it was found that vegetation had taken root, but whether the shoots were barley, corn or just grass, the engineer was unable to tell.

USE GAS MONEY TO CUT PROPERTY TAX

Farmers Opposed to Expansion of Highway Program, Straw Vote Reveals

Madison—Farmers throughout the state are generally in favor of applying the added revenue from the gasoline tax to the reduction of the general property tax rather than to expansion of the highway program, I. M. Wright, secretary of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau federation, has announced.

The federation recently mailed blanks to all town clerks asking that at the next town meeting a vote be taken on the question and returns from all parts of the state have been coming in. About 250 of the probable 400 have already been received by the federation, Mr. Wright said, and in most cases the town vote was unanimous in favor of reduction of the property tax in place of increased highway construction.

"The Farm Bureau federation is not opposed to road construction," Mr. Wright said, "and the votes that are coming in do not mean that the farmers do not want good roads. Rather, the stand of the federation is that the money from the gasoline tax be used for highway construction in place of the money previously raised and that a normal and not an expanded highway construction program be followed by the counties. This was evidently the intent of the legislature in passing the gasoline tax law."

LAWRENCE PREP SCHOOL TRACK MEET ON MAY 16

Eight Teams Of Valley Conference Invited To Appleton For H. S. Games

Manitowoc and East Green Bay, With Vet Teams, Expected to Fight for Title

Eight schools of the Fox river valley have been invited to send their athletes to the second annual Fox Valley Conference interscholastic track and field meet to be held here May 16 under the auspices of Lawrence college. Committees already are at work under Jack Wilcox of Appleton, blue track manager, to make arrangements for the meet. Only valley conference schools are admitted as yet, according to A. C. Denny, Lawrence athletic director. The first meet was held last year. None of the school of the conference had attempted a real track camp for years so that limiting the meet to these schools made competition fair. Mr. Denny said. Other schools had had track for years. It is probable that Kaukauna, Neenah, Menasha and other valley schools outside the league will be admitted later. In the last meet held here before 1924, Madison Central high nosed out Appleton by three points.

Teams competing for the prizes are Manitowoc, Appleton, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, East and West Green Bay. Individual winners of first, second and third place, high point winner, and the winning team are awarded prizes. Appleton copped the first meet last year with Manitowoc and East Green Bay close competitors. Many good marks were made, but a few of these are scheduled to go by the board this year. Appleton, with the loss of the Hyde twins, Neller, Tuttrup, Murphy and others looks to be out of the running. Johnson, 440 yard title holder, however, should set a new mark in his event. East Green Bay and Manitowoc with several vets from last year's track squads are scheduled for the big fight with Fondy and West Green Bay.

Interest Growing In Green Bay Fight

Milwaukee Fight Fans Expect Real Bout When Kahn and Jawson Cross Punches

Green Bay—When Harry Kahn and Joe Jawson battle here at the Armory on April 27, the Milwaukee fight club only will have their ears to the ground waiting news of the verdict. There is a lot of interest about the scrap in the Cream City and it is expected that quite a delegation of Milwaukee fight fans will head here for the fight.

Kahn and Jawson belong to different fight groups in the Cream City. Jawson hangs around the Mitchell stable while Kahn sticks with the Lapham park tribe. These two light colonels have little love for each other. Several times Milwaukee promoters have tried to stage a Kahn-Jawson mix up but too many had to be satisfied with arrangements and the ring magnates gave it up as a bad job.

SCHINER MAKES COMMENT
George Schiner, chairman of the State boxing commission and sport editor of a Milwaukee paper recently commented on the boys who will fight the headline battle here, as follows:

"Kahn has been among the unfortunate who were drawn into the pugilistic rebellion locally and as a consequence his development, like that of Billy Portfield, has been retarded. He is a southpaw and of course that has also hurt him, but he has demonstrated he is a satisfactory performer and can go with the best lightweights hereabouts."

"April 27 at Green Bay he will make another start with his old sidekick, Joe Dawson. Joe can stop 'em like Ray Schalk, but he also can leave 'em over occasionally and it ought to be a warm tussle, since there is a lot of natural rivalry between the pair with little love lost."

Legion Team Opens Work For Lark Loop

The American Legion will form its football team for 1925 at its first practice at 3:15 Friday afternoon at Jones' park. The Legion team has been admitted in the Lark League in the place of the Advertiser club and will have to show plenty of stuff to meet the new competition. Other members of the league are the Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs.

Every Legionnaire desiring to play league ball this year should report to Eddie Steward at the practice for a tryout.

Cleveland, O.—Pete Sarmento, Milwaukee bantamweight, has been matched to box Carl Tremaine, Cleveland, twelve rounds to a decision here May 5.

New York—Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, will defend his world title against Dave Shyne of California some time prior to August 15, the New York State Athletic commission decided.

Last Nite Skating, Armory.

OHIO BOXER MEETS FRENCH CHAMP TONIGHT

Promising Cleveland boy, who will meet Edouard Marcant, French featherweight champion in a 12-round bout at the Ohio city Wednesday night.

Corbett is a fast, shifty boxer, and can hit. He looks like a real contender for the crown now worn by Louis "Kid" Kaplan. Corbett was originally booked to meet Kaplan but illness of the latter caused the substitution of Marcant, who will make his first appearance in this country at the time.

Corbett is being handled by no less a celebrity than Johnny Kilbane, former title-holder in the same division. Kilbane hopes to pilot his protégé to the championship and incidentally bring the crown back to Cleveland, where it rested for 11 years, or during Johnny's regime on the pugilistic throne.

Strong Teams In State Volley Meet

Racine and Milwaukee Picked as Finalists With Appleton as Close Contenders

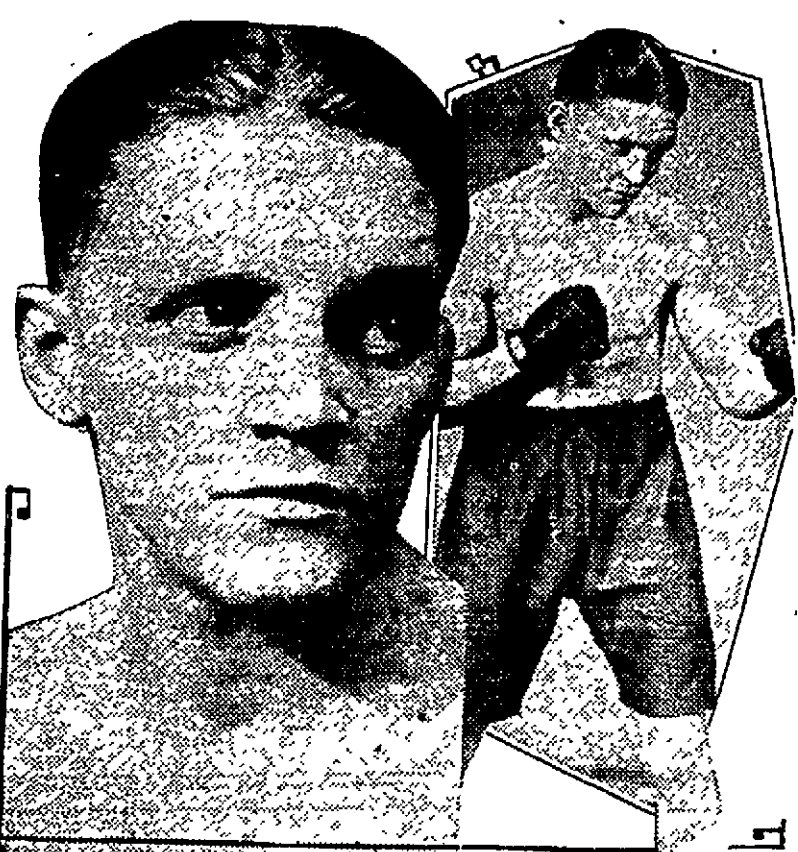

Racine and Milwaukee are doped as the strongest contenders for the state volleyball championship in the fifth annual title meet which will be held on Saturday at the local Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, according to A. P. Jensen, physical director. Appleton stands next in the line of contenders. Racine has a veteran team which has played together for all of six years, winning three Badger titles in that time but Milwaukee has been hounding the Belle City crew an even race in competition all season.

The first state meet was held in Milwaukee in 1921, but only a few teams were entered. Racine took the 1922-23 title at Madison. Racine and Fond du Lac, and the other teams are out to use her. Appleton's chances are based on the 1924 meet when the local squad finished third, losing to Racine in the best game of the meet in the semi-final. One game was lost 15-11 after Appleton had run up a 11-5 lead. This was the largest number of points made against the champs, 27, in the final games with Milwaukee. The local crew has been going good in the last month under the coaching of C. O. Gochbauer and should make Racine work to hold the title.

conferences, will be awarded gold basketballs at a final banquet at 6:30 Wednesday evening at the Conway Hotel. Coach A. C. Denny and Paul Fishedick, student manager, also will receive the coveted award. The meeting will be a final get-together for the group this year and recollections and amusing incidents of the last campaign will occupy the evening.

Basketballs will be awarded to Coach A. C. Denny, Manager Paul Fishedick, Captain John Zuseman, Walter Heldeman, Roger Ashman, Harold Bresse, Edward Kotol, Vernon Grove and Verle Clark.

Holbrook, Mass.—With Petrole, Fargo, N. D., won the decision over Andy Tucker, New York, in ten rounds.

Five Coaches Will Handle Athletics At Oshkosh School

Two Former Ripon Stars Added to Coaching and Teaching Staff for 1925

Oshkosh—An athletic program is contemplated at the High school which is sure to place Oshkosh in a position to be recognized as one of the leading schools of the state.

The plan calls for a staff of five coaches, with a competent man as director of the staff.

In view of this fact, E. J. Schneider, present coach at Mayville high school, and Ralph Christopherson, who will be graduated from Ripon college this June with three letters in major sports have been hired.

E. J. Schneider will be instructor of chemistry. Ralph Christopherson will be instructor of mathematics. Both will be members of the coaching staff and will work with the football, basketball, track and other teams the school may have.

The plan will be as follows: Frank F. Berg, present city recreational director, will be head of the staff, which will include Coach E. J. Abrahamson, Carl Callies, E. J. Schneider, Ralph Christopherson and some other man, if possible, who will be hired to teach some subject and be a member of the staff.

The staff will sit frequently in round table discussion. All matters will be thoroughly discussed and the policy that the majority of the group decides is best will be the policy of each and every member of the staff.

The two new men to be brought to Oshkosh, Schneider and Christopherson, are fairly well known here.

"Snitz" Schneider is a graduate of Ripon college, where he starred for several seasons in football, basketball and track. He has played in this city with the Ripon basketball team against the Normal school. Schneider has also had considerable experience in baseball, being rated as a strong pitcher. In the local basketball tournament Schneider's Mayville team played Oshkosh on the final night for third place.

Christopherson is known as one of Ripon's premier athletes. In football, basketball and especially in track, he stars. He led the football team this year. He holds the state hurdle and other records and has had the distinction of trying for the Olympic team.

KAUKAUNA BOY PULLS OAR WITH BADGER FROSH

Mark Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Griffith, 816 Metcown-ave, Kaukauna, has made a regular position on the 1925 University of Wisconsin freshman crew, according to word received by friends in this city. Griffith will be No. 5 in the frosh boat and is in line for a varsity job next year. He is a graduate of Kaukauna high school with the class of 1922. While in high school he took little part in athletics. The Badger frosh crew will accompany the varsity to Fougheespice this year.

They say good work is always rewarded, and we add the line even in sports. Ben "Rusty" Wadsworth, high school senior, was forced to quit both football and basketball the last two years when he had first team positions clinched due to a broken collar bone. He was a star in each sport and would have helped the school greatly, but no sooner did the football break heal when it weakened again to shut him out of basketball. Rusty won his letter as one of the most efficient basketball managers of the school, when he was lost to his favorite sports. Now things look good if the old line stars put. The boy is going to be with the deers, making even the Lawrence vets step aside.

Famous Chicagoes Will Bring Crack Squad To Menasha

Niesen's Ball Club Has More Big League Stars Than Most Class A Teams

When the Menasha ball club of the new Wisconsin state league meets the famous Chicago squad in the Boosters games on April 26 and 27 at Menasha, it will hit an aggregation of stars who have made great reputations in the big leagues. This club is owned by Billy Niesen, the czar of Chicago semi-pro baseball and is managed by Joe Nagle, former big leaguer. Niesen has more good ball players under his wing than most

Some of the stars of the Chicagoes are Burke, fielder for the team for several years; Aaron, third base, Tulsa Western league and Logan Square star; Harley, fielder, Memphis in the Southern league and Logan Square; Mokate, fielder, Louisville American Association; Weiss, first base, Chicago Federal league club; Knabel, shortstop, Minneapolis A. A.; Metten, second base, Simmons and Green Bay; Kavanaugh, second base, Chicago Cubs; Dennis, catcher, New York Yankees; Stannard, catcher, Indianapolis A. A.; Heath, Gray, Hoffman, Sullivan and Williams, pitchers.

President W. H. Pierce of the Pails will represent the club at the final league meeting at Kenosha where the schedule will be officially adopted and final plans made.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

Milwaukee fight fans are up in arms over the announcement that a Green Bay promoter stepped in and grabbed the Kahn-Jawson fight. Kahn has a great many friends in the Cream City who figure that the match should have been held there. Kahn has become a big favorite in Milwaukee through his recent sensational battles. Extensive plans have been made by the Lapham Athletic Club, of which Harry is a member, to go in a body to the Bay to back their champ.

Sheboygan, which starts the state league ball rolling for Menasha on May 2, still has a first and third baseman to sign. The remaining lineup shows real class and will make the Pails and others step to keep pace. The lineup to date includes such stars as Boyers of Canton, catcher; Braun of Sheboygan, left-hander of the Simmons and Marx. Eugene, pitcher; Brady, Menasha and Green Bay, second base; Donica, Simmons and Nash, shortstop; Sillock of Racine, Wilson of Sheboygan and Heilberger, Sheboygan, fielders.

They say good work is always rewarded, and we add the line even in sports. Ben "Rusty" Wadsworth, high school senior, was forced to quit both football and basketball the last two years when he had first team positions clinched due to a broken collar bone. He was a star in each sport and would have helped the school greatly, but no sooner did the football break heal when it weakened again to shut him out of basketball. ## National League Raises Flag To Celebrate Its Fiftieth Anniversary

Senior League Teams Resume Play After Taking Day Off to Honor Ebbets

New York—Ceremonies appropriately marking the golden jubilee of the National league will be combined with the raising of their fourth straight pennant by the New York Giants when they open their home season at the Polo grounds Wednesday in the first brush of a series with the Boston Braves.

After the 1924 pennant, is raised, the flag of the golden jubilee will be flung to the breezes and the players will march from the outfield to the plate, where the Giants will renew their drive after a two days lay off.

All the other teams in the National league will likewise resume play after a day of inactivity out of respect to the memory of the late Charles H. Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn club.

In the American league erratic tossing cost both Cleveland and Philadelphia their games with Detroit and Washington respectively.

Chick Fewster's wild cast on a double play, resulting in three Tiger runs paved the way for Cobb's men to win 4 to 3 and liberal distribution of passes by Pitcher Lefty Groves gave Washington a 6 to 2 win over the Athletics. As a result Washington is tied with Philadelphia for second place—only one game behind the Pacesetter Indians.

The Yankees, who moved up another notch at the expense of the Red Sox Wednesday will be faced with the Huggins' team which won, 5 to 1.

Coach Gibson of Janesville high will return next year to the Janesville school. This will be the third year for "Gibby" as director of athletics. The former Wisconsin star has been fairly successful and it is understood that several prominent Illinois schools were bidding for his services. Gibby is well-known to Appleton athletes. He was physical director at Camp Manitowish for two years, during which time the Hyde twins, Tuttrup, Murphy and Neller, high school lettermen worked under him.

Turn About Is Fair Play

If you find a watch on the street—no name, no initials—what would you do?

That's easy!

You'd watch the Post-Crescent's Lost and Found column the next day and the next—until you saw the loser's ad about the watch you found.

And that's exactly what every other honest finder in Appleton would do, if you lost your watch—and told about it in the Post-Crescent.

These little Lost ads are wonder-workers, because they go to work on the sure-fire principle that almost everybody is honest—and that every honest finder turns to the Post-Crescent to find the name of the owner of the article that has just been picked up.

Take this method of recovery the next time you lose something of value—call 543 and ask for an ad-taker!

Super-Station To Open Near Chicago

Inaugural Program Will Be Broadcast from WHT on April 25

Chicago—Radio super station WHT, now nearing completion with studios in the Wirtley building and towers at Deerfield, Ill., will go on the air with an international inaugural program at 8.30 p. m. April 25. It was definitely announced today by George E. Carlson, general manager of the station.

Mechanical and studio equipment will all be installed about ten days prior to the opening, Carlson said. Following required tests, the wave length will be announced shortly previous to the inauguration night. The 8.30 o'clock opening program, to be preceded by a half hour test program, will be broadcast on 1,500 watts power.

"The wave length of WHT will be low enough to justify an international program under the ordinary broadcasting conditions that exist on the opening date," said Carlson. "Extensively conducted low wave tests in the last few months show that static

Stork Gains Slightly On Grim Reaper

If the present ratio between births and deaths in Appleton continues and other factors remain constant the population will have increased by 105 by the end of the year. The March report of Dr. W. C. Felton, city physician shows there were 40 births and 25 deaths in the month, a net population gain of 15.

Seven cases of contagious disease are noted in the report for March. One for erysipelas, four of chicken pox and two of smallpox. The number of marriages during March was small, because of the Lenten season, only four couples making the leap. In March Dr. Felton made 42 visits to homes and received 21 office calls.

The total number of cases cared for by Florence M. Whipple, city nurse, during March was 40. Twenty of these were carried over from the previous month. Ten new adult patients and the same number of children were added. Miss Whipple made 124 home calls during the period covered by her report, held 15 con-

NEW HANDLING CHARGE CONFUSES MAIL USERS

Patrons of the postoffice here are having considerable difficulty getting accustomed to the new parcel post rates, according to H. J. Franck, assistant postmaster, but other changes in the rate schedule are causing little trouble. The 2-cent service charge on packages sent by third and fourth class mail is causing the most trouble. Patrons frequently appear at the postoffice to inquire whether this charge is levied on every pound. Mr. Franck states that the charge is on packages containing merchandise, not on miscellaneous matter such as circulars and advertising matter.

WON'T HAVE SPECIAL "CHILD HEALTH" DAY

Outagamie-co will have no special child health day on May 1, as it had in the last few years, according to Miss Marie Klein, county nurse. The day usually was devoted to study of child health problems and to work out solutions. The unusual amount of county work that must be taken care of this spring was one reason for postponing the day. No time could be given to making the necessary arrangements, Miss Klein said.
